

Give thanks for pie.

It's beginning to look a lot like Thanksgiving. Time to dust off the pilgrim centerpiece, get out the ceremonial cornucopia, and find the leaves to Grandma's dining room table. Go ahead and talk turkey; let us handle the dessert.

Don't forget those inlaws.

Like you ever could. Thanksgiving means two things: enough tryptophan to ensure a stellar post-dinner football nap, and hungry house guests the morning after.

You handle the pillow shams; let us handle breakfast.
